Madrid

Madrid: Experience Spain at its Most Vibrant

The Program:

Study just outside Madrid at the prestigious Universidad Europea de Madrid (UEM).

Academics:

FIE in Madrid offers upper-intermediate and advanced Spanish language students full immersion in the culture and language of Spain. Four semesters of college-level Spanish study are required.

Students will begin their semester with intensive language study at an appropriate level. Following the language course, students will enroll directly in classes at UEM in areas such as business, communication, health sciences, humanities, advertising, public relations, journalism, marketing, and international relations. All students will take a Hispanic Culture course and be paired with a UEM student for a one-credit tandem language learning course.

The Location:

UEM is located just 20 kilometers south of central Madrid near the town of Villaviciosa de Odón. A beautiful and unique location, Villaviciosa offers students the comfort and safety of a smaller town with easy access to Madrid via regular bus service.

Housing:

Students live with host families in Villaviciosa. Breakfast and dinner are provided daily with their host family. All families are carefully screened and selected by FIE's Resident Director.

Student Life:

FIE students have access to the full range of UEM-sponsored activities, including a wide variety of societies, clubs and casual sports teams. FIE's Resident Director also hosts a number of excursions and events throughout the term.
