Course Information

Course Description

A global marketing company conducts business outside its home country. Today, a company that fails to become international in outlook risks losing its domestic business to competitors with lower costs, more experience, and better products. An organisation that engages in global marketing focuses on international market opportunities and threats.

This course involves a deeper understanding of specific concepts, considerations, and strategies applied in conjunction with marketing fundamentals to ensure success in global markets. Students in this course consider and evaluate the forces of risk, culture, and macro- and national- level economic factors to analyse firm strategy, market entry scenarios, product and service adaptation requirements, pricing issues, challenges in logistics and distribution, and global branding and communication issues when products and services enter the global marketplace.

Course Goals

This course provides a detailed examination of marketing from an international perspective looking at global market opportunities and threats to maximise competitive advantage.

The essence of global marketing is finding the balance between a standardised (extension) approach to the marketing mix and a localised (adaptation) approach, responsive to country or regional differences.

Student Learning Outcomes

At the end of this course, students will:

1. Interpret what is meant by the term globalisation and the changing nature of the global economy from macro, meso, and micro perspectives
2. Differentiate between a standardised (extension) approach to the marketing mix and a localised (adaptation) approach, responsive to country or regional differences.
3. Propose a solution for a current global marketing issue/problem/opportunity facing a particular firm or industry

Brief Assessment Overview

Assessment 1: Case Study Write Up

Due:

Students work in pairs to: (1) summarise an assigned case study for the class and lead the class in a discussion of the topic, and (2) individually write a 1,500 word summary of the case.

Assessment 2: Mid-Term Exam

Due:

The mid-term test is designed to assess understanding of concepts and material covered in first part of the course.

Assessment 3: Team Project

Due:

Students form small teams based on mutual interest in researching, analysing, and proposing a solution for a current global marketing issue/problem/opportunity facing a particular firm or industry, which is relevant to the topics covered in the course.

Example project ideas:

Evaluate BMW's current segmentation strategy amongst its different vehicle brands. Include in your proposal suggestions for improving the firm's approach given likely future sales scenarios, governmental regulations, other macro issues, and moves by competition.

Pepsi recently launched its first global brand campaign, 'Live for Now'. Create a proposal for a potential brand ambassador(s) in a specific market/region and how you may tailor this campaign for the local market/region for maximum effectiveness.

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) will need to sell broadcast rights for the 2024 Winter Olympic Games. Develop a model of likely broadcast revenues/bids for a specific country/region.

Deliverables:

Project Proposal Presentation (up to 5-minute presentation accompanied by a 2-page maximum written proposal).

Presentation (20 minutes, plus Q A of up to 5 minutes).

Executive Summary (with appropriate appendices and references).

Policies specific to this course

- Co-curricular Activities and Field Trips: Field trips for your FIE courses have been planned to help students achieve the learning objectives of the course and are required. They take place during class time unless otherwise notes. Details about required visits appear on the class by class schedule below. Please note that any make up for missed co-curricular activities are at the personal expense of the student.
- Late submission of work: Written work may be submitted later than the due date only with express permission in advance of the due date from the course instructor. Late work will receive a 5% reduction in points for each 24-hour period handed in past the deadline, including each weekend day. Work submitted a week late will be marked at a C or lower. Any extensions made beyond the last class meeting must be requested in writing to the faculty and include any information on the circumstances that require the extension, the nature of work yet to be submitted, and the date by which the work will be received. If said work is not received by the agreed extension date, barring further exceptional circumstances, the work will not be given credit.
- Late arrivals to class or site visit: Please arrive on time. Lateness, particularly on days with co-curricular visits, results in missed course material. Faculty may use their discretion to mark a student as 'Absent' if they feel the student has arrived too late or left too early to be considered 'Present' for that session.
- Trigger Warnings: Some topics covered in class may expose students to past traumas and evoke a negative reaction. Sensitive topics can vary, such as sexual violence, death, racism, or xenophobia. I want this to be an inclusive space where every student feels comfortable; therefore, I will provide content warnings before lectures for sensitive subject matters. Content warnings are meant to give students a forewarning so they can prepare for their emotional safety. It is important to note that anything in the environment could be a trigger for someone's trauma, such as smell, sound, or texture; it is impossible to account for all possible triggers, and ask for grace as I do my best as an educator to warn students of potentially distressing content during lectures, assignments and/or discussions.

Attendance and Participation

- Regular attendance is essential in order to pass a course. A class constitutes lectures, student presentations, discussions, seminars, co-curricular activities, tests, and examinations. In addition, under UK Home Office regulations class attendance is mandatory.

- Class attendance and participation is formally recorded and incorporated into a student's final grade.
- In addition to physical presence in class, a student's participation in a class is evaluated on the mastery of assigned course readings as reflected in a consistent, valid contribution to class discussions, in-class exercises, and in asking questions that enrich the on-going discourse. Consistency and validity in participation is expected in every class. Limited participation will have a negative impact on a student's participation score.
- When unexpected events cause students to miss a class, it is the student's responsibility to initiate contact with the faculty member to notify them in advance, or as soon as is reasonably possible.
- Absence from class does not relieve a student of responsibility for assignments. Students bear the ultimate responsibility for all missed class material and assessment.
- If a student misses 25% or more of a course, then they may be awarded a failure for the course and/or not permitted to finish the course.

Academic Integrity

By enrolling at FIE, you have joined an academic community and you are expected and required to act honestly regarding the work you submit for assessment in your courses. Academic integrity is closely related to the concept of good academic practice.

Any attempts to Cheat; Fabricate; Plagiarise; Collaborate without Authorisation; Participate in Academically Dishonest Activities; and/or Facilitate Academic Dishonesty will be viewed as a breach of this regulation.

Please see FIE's Academic Integrity Policy in full.

Most students do not have any problems understanding the rules and expectations about acting honestly at university. If you have any questions you must talk to your faculty or a member of FIE's Academic Team.

Writing and Language Support

FIE's Writing Support Tutors are available to assist students of all levels of expertise with all phases of the writing process. Available year-round and to all students. To book an appointment or for more information visit www.fie.org.uk/wst.

Please note that FIE allows the use of a foreign language/English dictionary in exam situations for students where English is not their primary language UNLESS the use of the dictionary would give the student a significant advantage (e.g. where the exam is aimed at getting the students to define terms that might be found in the dictionary).

Accommodations for Students

Students who wish to use academic accommodations at FIE can register to do so via FIE's Administration Team, by providing the appropriate supporting documentation. Students who have approved FIE academic accommodations should discuss them directly with their faculty member(s) within or around the first few class sessions, or via email. Exams are facilitated by FIE faculty and students should give 2 weeks' notice to faculty members if use of approved exam accommodations is required. The Administration team can assist students and faculty with liaison and facilitation as needed.

Additional Policies and Resources

Mental Health and Stress Management Support

FIE offers mental health support. If students wish to seek this support, including with FIE's counsellor, simply email studentlife@fie.org.uk. If you have a counsellor from back home that you are seeing, we strongly encourage you to maintain contact with them throughout your time studying abroad with FIE.

Diversity and Inclusivity

FIE regards its housing and classroom facilities as safe spaces to live, study, and work with students, faculty, and staff who are understanding, supportive, and trustworthy. Inappropriate, derogatory comments and/or actions, harassment, bullying, victimisation and discrimination are not tolerated. Any such behaviour will be investigated and dealt with appropriately. Students must be respectful of diverse opinions and of all class members regardless of personal attribute and use inclusive language in written and oral work.
